Spring Is Coming

Spring is just a dream
An inaccessible dream
I am stuck in the longest autumn of my life
Stuck for years and years.

When are my yellowed leaves of hope going to be green?
When are my birds going to sing again?
Till when will the clouds of my eyes rain down?
Till when will the sun of my life hide behind the darkest clouds of thought?

For years and years I have been waiting for an answer
Trying to remember how spring feels.
